HEALTH AND WELLNESS INITIATIVE

In November, 2017, Global G.L.O.W. hosted its first Think Tank and convened women leaders from various areas of expertise in Southern California. Our goal was to strategically identify projects that address barriers to empowerment for women and girls. Together, we brainstormed, identified, validated and began to chart a course for other potential projects and initiatives.

Overwhelmingly, it was clear that Health and Wellness issues can be an insurmountable barrier for girls in communities around the world, if not addressed. The Global G.L.O.W. leadership team has developed plans to work alongside girls to guide them to overcome health barriers that they face.

We are looking to launch a pilot of this program in 2018 and we are working to identify sites for our pilot. This new pilot program will, through education and guided mentorship, ensure that girls have knowledge and access to meet their healthcare needs. They will then be able to succeed in education and continue, without obstacle, on their path towards an independent future.

KEY PLAN MILESTONES

- Meet with and select partners for the development and implementation of this initiative.
- Build out a proposed pilot program based on partner(s) and capabilities, with the vetted partners.
- Develop measurement and evaluation tools for Health and Wellness Initiative pilot program
- Begin setting up pilot infrastructure.
- Launch pilot in 3 sites in July 2018 (Southern California, Kenya, and Cambodia)
